STA496H1Y: Readings in Statistics

August 22, 2026

Generative artificial intelligence, specifically OpenAI's ChatGPT, was employed as a supplementary tool in the preparation of this submission, in accordance with the course syllabus and instructor guidance on the disclosure of AI use. Any AI assisted was reviewed and revised prior to inclusion in accordance with course requirements.

For the annotated bibliography, ChatGPT was used as a supplementary tool to: (1) brainstorm and explore ideas (such as potential organisational approaches and refining themes of interest), (2) support the drafting process of written content, (3) cross-check grammar, concision, and adherence to word-count requirements, and (4) verify APA-style reference formatting.

For the ePortfolio, ChatGPT was used as a supplementary tool to: (1) provide occasional HTML coding assistance, and (2) to support the drafting process of written content.
